In answer to the the following questions.

- 1) No
- 2) No, as some optometrists may have no desire or indeed time to complete the course.
- 3) Only if in isolated regions where access to ophthalmology is poor.
- 4) Those who wish to gain endorsement, qualification within 3 years (part time study) seems fair.
- 5) Yes.
- 6) No
- 7) Time out of practice and access to ophthalmology clinics may be an issue for some optometrists.

Kind regards,
